Air conditioning & air treatment

As we learn and understand more about the side effects of living with pollution, we strive to improve the quality of the air we breathe. Air purification and conditioning can significantly improve the quality of the air we breathe indoors. Filters and ionizers can trap and help remove the common pollutants like dust, carbon particles from car exhausts, smoke, pollen, some bacteria, mould spores, animal dander and other microscopic irritants from the air. Refrigerated cooling and dehumidifiers reduce the water in the air making it harder for many pests to grow. Mould spores and dust mite debris are two obvious allergens that are controlled in a drier environment.

Air treatment products can create a cleaner, healthier, fresher, more pleasant and consequently more productive working environment.

What is refrigerated air conditioning?

Air conditioning works like your refrigerator, which removes heat continuously from the cabinet and discharges it into the kitchen. An air conditioner works by removing the heat and moisture from where it is unwanted, through an open window or vent in the glass or wall, so you feel cooler and drier.

Dehumidifiers are used to keep humidity levels low without losing costly heat in the autumn and winter months. They work like an air conditioner but, instead of sending the heat outside, the air is dried and heated slightly so existing heat is supplemented but not lost.

CADR (Clean Air Delivery Rate) indicates how quickly the air purifier can clean the air. The higher the CADR rating the more effective and quicker it is to clean the air. It is measured numerically for particles such as smoke, pollen and dust.

Entrance Mats

Create an effective barrier against dust and moisture

Outdoor Entrance mats are designed to scrape away the worst of the dirt and soak up the majority of the water that shoes would otherwise bring inside.

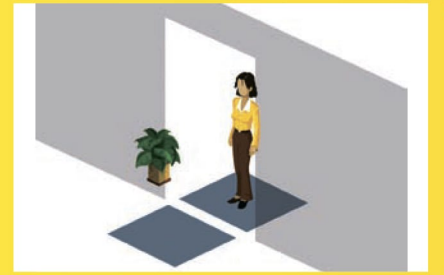

Indoor Entrance mats will complete the job started by an outdoor entrance mat. They will soak up any excess moisture from footwear as well as removing finer particles of dust.

Speciality Mats

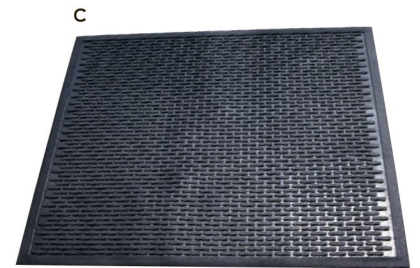

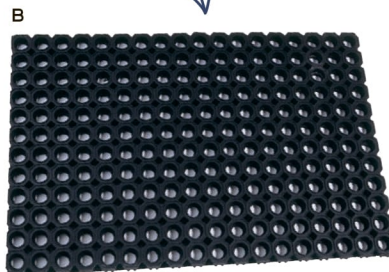

Help relieve fatigue and promote health and safety

Our range of anti-fatigue mats are designed to relieve the fatigue caused by prolonged standing.

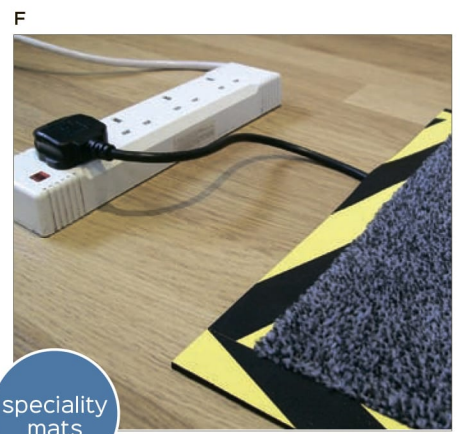

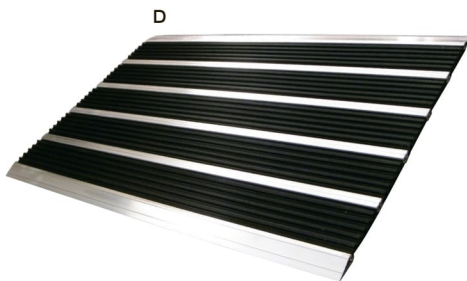

Trailing wires and cables can be a trip hazard. Kablemat from DOORTEX® is the ideal solution to minimise this risk.

Why use a chair or floor protection mat?

- Ergonomic Product - Makes movement easier for chairs whilst relieving leg fatigue.
- Floor Protection - Protects all types of flooring, from hard flooring to carpeted.
- Anti-static Mats - Protect from electrostatic charges which can come from electrical appliances and components.
- Anti-microbial Mats - Protect from bacterial build-up on all floors and surfaces.

Which shape and what size?

The shape of mat you choose will be determined by the space you need to protect. All our mat shapes are versatile and can be used for most applications. When choosing a size consider the total space to be covered, size of your chair base and your 'roll area'; how much area you use to roll to retrieve items, eg files.

Which material?

- Polycarbonate - The ultimate in quality, clarity and durability for home and office flooring. Crystal clear and 100% recyclable, polycarbonate creates the toughest mats available. Does not curl, crack, discolour, dimple or smell. Fire-resistant and free of any toxic chemicals.
- Phthalate-free PVC - Maximum transparency and guaranteed not to crack, chip, break or shatter under normal use. All FLOORTEK® PVC products are phthalate-free and do not contain the plasticisers that have been banned from children's toys and medical instruments.
- Anti-static PVC - Helps to protect electrical equipment such as computers from being damaged through the build-up of dust.
- Anti-microbial PVC - Anti-bacterial additive technology continuously combats the growth of microbes and bacteria that can cause cross-contamination.
- Recycled PET - Manufactured with 100% post consumer recycled PET. Turn old drinks bottles into your next chair mat. BPA and PVC-free, extremely durable and 100% recyclable.
- 100% Ortho Phthalate-free Enhanced Polymer - The toughest green footprint to protect your carpeted floor. Contains up to 50% recycled material.
